DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-13, 16-27, 33, 34, 36, 41-43, 48-53, 59, 66 and 124 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over de Zeeuw 4,115,256, "Acid-Leached Fly Ash as a Spherical Filler in Polymer Composites", Berry, E.E. et al. or "Evaluation of Plastic Filler Applications for Leached Fly Ash", Hemmings, R.T. et al., in view of Hemmings et al. 6,916,863.

4. De Zeeuw discloses demetallizing fly ash in column 2, lines 8-29 and use as heat insulators and fillers in plastics and rubber in column 1, lines 39-41. Hemmings, R.T. et al. teach magnetic separation of fly ash in section 2, direct acid leaching of ash in section 3, evaluation of beneficiated fly ash in section 5 and uses in section 7. Berry et al. recite magnetic separation and acid treating of fly ash on page 1, column 2, under DAL-FILLERS, polypropylene and nylon on the same page and column under RESINS, particle sizes and densities on page 2, column 1 under Characterization of Fillers and concentrations and properties on the rest of page 2, and all of page 3, while Tables of physical properties can be found on page 4. Since it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made that demetallized fly ash can be advantageously used wherever regular fly ash is used, it would have been patently obvious to add said demetallized fly ash to the resins listed by Hemmings et al. ('863), see the paragraph overlapping columns 8 and 9, blending them with other fillers, see the paragraph overlapping columns 7 and 8, the fly ash having the particle size shown in column 6, lines 33-61. For fly ash from coal see column 7, lines 10-26 and for articles and uses see from column 9, line 29, to column 10, line 65.
